

Rodfendr

The Rodfendr attaches to any rod and allows you to rest it against any surface without damaging your rod blank or line. It can be used on Railings, Pier Walls, Rocks or Jettys this clever Irish invention saves you bringing a rod stand where you have structure to utilise and removes the need for balancing rods on a cloth and even prevents rods sliding off railings. We spend more money these days on fishing rods than ever before so it makes sense to protect them

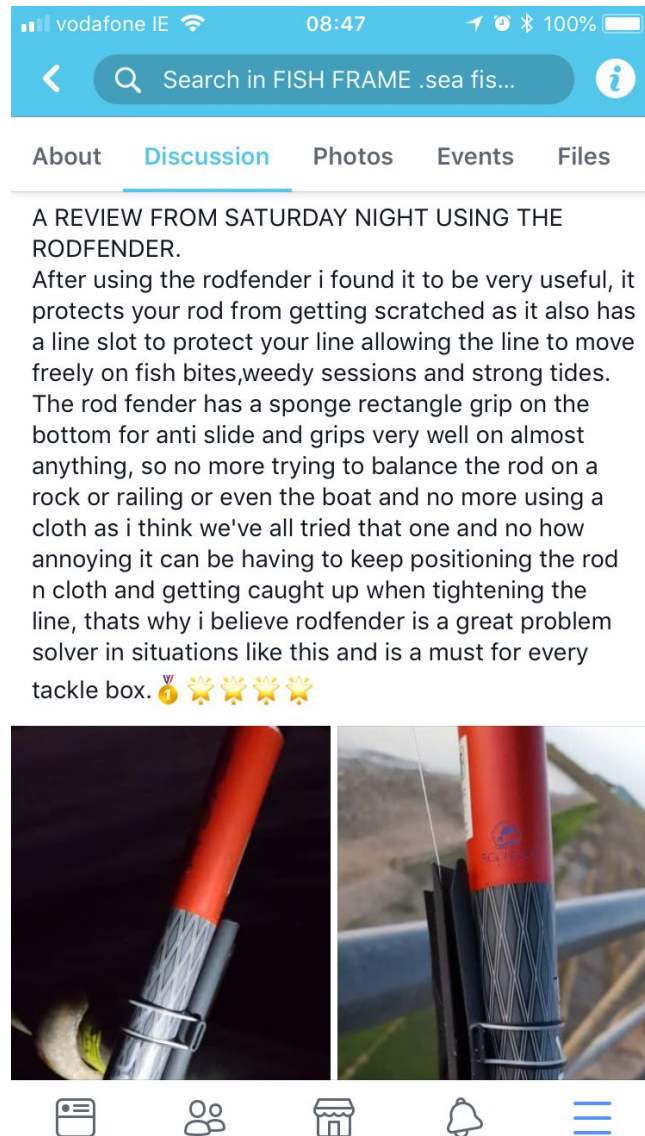

RODFENDR

As one of our customers Emmet puts it “ the rod rest that fits in your pocket”. Rodfendr, patent pending, is the first rod rest that attaches directly to your fishing rod allowing you to place your fishing rod anywhere you want protecting your fishing rod and line from damage. Rodfendr gives you the best chance to land that fish especially in that secret spot or when you don’t want to carry a lot of cumbersome tackle with you

Because Rodfendr attaches directly to your fishing rod it is highly mobile. You can move to a different fishing spot quickly and easily without having to carry extra tackle or demounting any clips or ties, simply pick up your fishing rod and go to the place where you want to fish. Rodfendr is easy to put onto your fishing rod and is instinctive to use, by keeping it simple we have made Rodfendr an amazing product which is lightweight yet extremely strong and protects your fishing rod and line anywhere you use it.

Rodfendr is the latest innovation in fishing rod rests and like all great products it's simple to install and use. You can get yours by contacting us on facebook @Rodfendr or at
